With over 35 years of legal experience, Jessica Braverman is a dedicated family law attorney who brings both compassion and strategic insight to every case. Known for her tireless advocacy and practical approach, Jessica specializes in high-conflict divorces and custody disputes, helping families navigate their most challenging moments with clarity and confidence.

Jessica's deep commitment to her clients is reflected in her belief that every family deserves fair, meaningful resolutions. Whether she's guiding clients through a complex divorce or advocating for the best interests of children in custody matters, Jessica's approach is always grounded in empathy and responsiveness.

"What drives me is finding practical, fair solutions for families in crisis. I'm a fierce advocate for my clients, and I'm committed to providing them with the attention and care they deserve during difficult times."

With a background in civil litigation and mediation, Jessica's experience allows her to resolve cases efficiently while always keeping her clients' best interests front and center. As a volunteer settlement conference mentor, she's helped hundreds of cases reach resolution by understanding the perspectives of judges and crafting thoughtful, cost-effective solutions.

A second-generation attorney with strong ties to the Portland community, Jessica practiced law in California for many years before returning to Oregon to reconnect with her roots and be closer to family. Outside of work, she is passionate about giving back to her community, supporting veterans' groups and other charitable causes. When she's not practicing law, Jessica enjoys hiking, dancing, and maintaining a healthy lifestyle through fitness and outdoor activities.

Jessica is licensed to practice law in both Oregon and California.
