Driven by a passion for social justice and a desire to help others, Laura Grigore was inspired to pursue family law to help clients navigate challenging times and to ensure that the best interests of children are always prioritized.

"I believe in leading with empathy, listening closely to my clients, and then developing strategies tailored to their unique situations."

Laura's colleagues often commend her compassionate approach, especially in emotionally charged cases, as she strives to make clients feel heard and understood.

With a background in government contracting, Laura has honed her skills in negotiation and drafting terms. This experience has been invaluable in her legal practice, ensuring that every detail is meticulously addressed.

Originally from Montreal, Canada, Laura moved to Washington at a young age and has since called Snohomish County her home. In her spare time, she enjoys hiking in the Central Cascades, cooking, and spending time in nature. She and her husband share their home with two cats, Daisy and Lucy, who keep life interesting with their dynamic friendship.

"I personally felt that everyone involved in the case actually cared and enjoyed their job and were fighting for my rights. They definitely felt like family and treated me so."
